Tuesday, March 25. 1707.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated April 1.

Cadix, March 7.

THE Regiſter-Ship of Campeche, which ſome Days ago arriv'd on this Coaſt in the Company of two other Ships, and had on board a great Sum of Money for King Philip, turning into the River of Quadalquivir on Wedneſday laſt, was through the Wilfulneſs of the Captain, who would not be adviſ'd by the Pilot, run upon a Rock, where ſhe ſplit, and ſunk with all her Lading: Of her Crew about 30 Men were ſav'd. This Ship, beſides Silver, had on board a very rich Cargo in Cochineel, Indigo, &c. Which ſhe took in at Vera Cruz, whence ſhe came the 29th of December laſt. Men are employ'd to Fiſh up her Lading; but there is little Hope of recovering any thing, becauſe the Divers (of whom 5 or 6 are already drown'd) cannot fix their Engines as they would. The Loſt is valued at two Millions of Crowns. The Captain is put under Confinement. We have Advice, that the other two Ships are got ſafe into the Harbour of San Lucar, whence we expect them here in a little Time: In the Latitude of 38 Degrees they were ſeparated from ſeveral other Ships, laden for Spain from the Weſt Indies with a great Treaſure in Gold, Silver, and rich Goods.

Madrid, Mar. 13. Yeſterday a Convoy with Money was ſent from hence for our Army, under a Guard of 280 Dragoons to Cuenza, whence it will be ſent forward with a greater Number of Men to Albacete. By an Expreſs from the Duke of Berwick we have an Account, that the Enemy having broken up with all their Troops from about Gandia and Albaida, were advanc'd within 3 Miles of Alicant and encamp'd there; that thereupon our Army poſted it ſelf near Villa de Indio; And that 'twas probable there would be a Battle in Caſe the Enemy ſhould paſs the Mountains of Quexa. All the Officers that remain'd in this City, have Orders to repair forthwith to the Army, and the Foot-Guards are to hold themſelves ready to march the 22d Inſtant. The Court is extremely troubled for the Loſs of the Regiſter-Ship of Campeche, which had on board a great deal of Silver for the King, becauſe at this Conjuncture they are under great Streights for Want of Money. His Majeſty will not go into the Field this Summer. The Queen appears daily in publick, and is in perfect Health. Repeated Orders are ſent to the Provinces, for the raiſing and ſending hither Recruits with all ſpeed. 'Tis adviſ'd from Badajoz, that the Portugueſe are numerous on the Frontiers, that they are providing great Magazines, and mending the Roads, and give out that next Month they will penetrate with 15 or 16000 Men through Eſtramadura into Caſtile. But 'tis hop'd the Marquis de Bay will be able to oppoſe them; and Order is ſent to Galicia for 3000 Men to march with all Expedition from that Kingdom to Eſtramadura.

Paris, Mar. 28. An Expreſs is arriv'd at Court from Milan, with the Ratification of the Treaty concluded between the Armies in Lombardy, which is to be fully executed by the 1ſt of April. When this Courier came away it was rumour'd at Milan, that the Marquis de Langalerie had in a Duel kill'd the Prince of Anhalt with a Piſtol-ſhot. The 20th Inſtant the Duke de Noailles ſet out Poſt for Rouſſillon, and M. Chamilard for Dunkirk. Next Saturday the Duke of Orleans ſets out for Spain. The Prince and Princeſs of Vaudemont are to come into France from Italy; the King allows them a Penſion of 200000 Livres a Year. The Duke of Mantua is likewiſe expected at Court, but his Dutcheſs will retire into a Convent at Grenoble or Lions.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated April 2.

Paris, Mar. 28. The 24th at 7 at Night, the King being return'd from Marli to Verſailles, the Marquis of Beringhen, who had attended his Majeſty, came from Marli in a Coach with 6 Horſes for this City; a Groom on Horſeback carried a Torch before his Coach, behind which were 2 Foot-men. Being come into the Plain of Seva, the Coach was ſtop'd by a Party of 8 or 9 of the Enemy's Horſe, who made the Marquis come out and mount his Groom's Horſe. Upon Notice of his being carried off ſeveral Meſſengers were diſpatch'd from Court through all the Roads to get the Enemy ſtop'd: And between Han and Peronne in Picardy ſome of them were taken. The Marquis is brought back ſafe hither, and one of the Enemy; who ſays that their whole Party conſiſting of 30 Men came out of Aeth, and that they divided themſelves into ſeveral Companies and came thus far up into the Country with a Deſign to ſurprize and carry off the Dukes of Burgundy or Berry.

Bruſſels, March 30. We hear 'twas Collonel Guethem, who with a Party of Horſe ſiez'd between Paris and Marli the Marquis of Beringhen, the King of France's Maſter of the Horſe: But he was intercepted in his Retreat and made Priſoner himſelf by a Party of Horſe of the Garriſon of Perone.

Hague, Mar. 29. 'The 25th Inſtant the States 'ſign'd the renew'd Treaty for the Continuance of 'the Troops of Heſſe Caſſel in Italy. That for 'taking the Saxons into Service is not ready to be 'concluded yet. The New Demands made by 'King Auguſtus to the Miniſter of the States in Sa'xony would not have been thought extraordinary 'had they been made when he firſt offer'd his 'Troops: The Tenour of thoſe Demands is, that 'the Swedes impoveriſhing Saxony and taking to 'themſelves the very Electoral Revenues, King 'Auguſtus finds himſelf unable to put his Troops 'into a Condition to take the Field, and to remount 'cloath and arm them; and therefore deſires that a 'certain Sum of Money be advanc'd for providing 'them with thoſe Neceſſaries: He does not expect 'to have that Money paid into his own Hands, but 'will be content it ſhould be laid out by Perſons 'whom England and Holland ſhall appoint, to the 'proper Uſes. He demands beſides, that the ſaid 'Troops be taken into Service for two Years cer'tain, and that Field Marſhal Ogilvi be admitted 'to command them. The Miniſter of King Au'guſtus has intimated here, that neither the whole 'Time propos'd, nor the intire Sum demanded, 'and which amounts to ſeveral hundred Thouſand 'Florins, will be peremptorily inſiſted on, but mo'derated in ſome reaſonable Degree: And as for 'Field-Marſhal Ogilvi, he ſays he himſelf has al'ready repreſented to the King his Maſter, that as 'numerous a Body of Troops at his have been 'taken into the Service of England and Holland, 'namely from Denmark, Pruſſia, Hanover, and 'Heſſe-Caſſel, yet without Field-Marſhals to com'mand them: And that if M. Ogilvi, has a Deſire, 'as he profeſſes, to be employ'd againſt France, he 'muſt reſolve to roll with the other Lieutenants 'General: And that there is an Example of this in 'M. Fagel, who notwithſtanding he was a Field-'Marſhal in Portugal, does now ſerve in the Ne'therlands in the Quality of Lieutenant General, 'and rolls with the reſt of the Officers of that Qua'lity. We wait with ſome Impatience to be ' thoroughly inform'd of the Conditions of the Capitulation upon which the French are to retire out ' of Italy. The States had a Copy of the Articles, ' in Number 36; but 2 of them were undetermin'd, one related to Mantua, which the Enemy ' would have be put into the Hands of a nentral ' Potentate. The States have receiv'd a Letter from ' Prince Eugene, relating to their Demand of their ' Share of the Contributions rais'd in Lombardy; ' which Letter is written in Terms that give them ' some Dissatisfaction. A Zealander, nam'd Captain Credo, who as Commadore has the command of 2 Privateers of 50 Guns and 350 Men ' each, took about 5 Weeks ago a French Ship of ' 66 Guns coming from America: That Prize is valued in order to be divided between 16 Persons ' who fitted out the said 2 Privateers; and the Valuation amounts a hundred thousand Florins a ' a Share; after all Charges paid, even the Charge ' of refitting the Privateers for the Sea agen. Letters from Vienna advise, that Count Guido Staremberg is to command on the Rhine, with General Thungen; and that Prince Eugene will continue in Italy. They write from Stockholm, ' that Orders were sent to Carelscroon for a Squadron to put to Sea from thence for the Gulph of ' Finland, to hinder the Danish Ships from trading ' to Narva.

Hague, Apr. 1. ' Two Day ago the States receiv'd ' a Courier from the Bishop of Paderborn which ' was immediately dispatch'd back agen. 'Tis not ' known on what Affair he was sent, but 'tis conjectur'd to be about the Possession design'd to be ' taken of the Bishoprick of Munster. Letters that ' are come from Munster by the ordinary Post, say ' the Advices that were come thither from Rome of the ' 12th Instant, had brought nothing that could be ' depended on in Relation to the Pope's Decision of ' that Affair, but left them between Hope and Fear: ' They add, that M. Ittersum will speedily return ' hither. If the Affair of Munster, occasion so ' much Trouble, 'tis to be fear'd that of Lubeck ' will one Day cause more: For 'tis advis'd that ' the Administrator of Gottorp having suspended the ' Canons that voted for Prince Charles of Denmark, ' assembled 7 others that are devoted to him, and ' who against all Form elected for his Coadjutor ' the Prince his Son, who is hardly a Year old. ' Those who understand Ecclesiastical Affairs, think ' much may be said against the Validity of such an ' Election: Others look upon this Proceeding to be ' heady and violent, and say the Administrator was ' resolv'd to make his Advantage of the King of ' Sweden's stay in Saxony. The Security propos'd ' on the part of that Electorate for repayment of the ' Sums they would borrow here, are judg'd not to ' be solid nor large enough; so that the said Loan ' will hardly be granted, unless some new Motives ' change the present Dispositions. It does not appear yet that the 2 maritime Potentates are inclin'd to give their Guaranty to the Treaty of ' Alt-Ranstad, which would oblige them to own ' King Stanislaus: The Ambassador of Muscovy ' does all he can to hinder it. He will go over to ' England in one of the Yachts that come with the ' Duke of Marlborough: His Grace having sent ' Word that he design'd to embark to Day, we entertain Hopes of his speedy and much desir'd Arrival. The States have actually given Order for ' 10000 Cuirasses to be made for their Cavalry, and ' of that Number 3500 will be ready by the middle ' of May. Yesterday Morning the Earl of Manchester proceeded from hence on his Embassy from ' the Queen of England to the Republick of Venice: And at 11 a Clock last Night General ' Dopf arriv'd here from Germany. The States ' have not yet receiv'd the Ratification of the Capitulation made with Count Medavi: The Duke ' of Savoy has written to his Envoy here, that the ' two Articles left undetermin'd are regulated in this ' Manner; viz. The Germans are to be put in ' Possession of Mantua, and Final is to be quitted ' by the Enemy and annex'd as formerly to the ' Dutchy of Milan, not to be given to the Duke of ' Savoy as in some Prints is reported. The Castle ' of Milan was to be evacuated the 20th past, and ' the other Places within 15 Days after. Letters ' from Venice say the King of France had sent an ' Express thither to the Duke of Mantua, with a ' loving Letter and 50000 Pistoles, to comfort him ' for the Loss of his Dominions occasion'd by the ' said Capitulation.

G. Willdey and T. Brandreth, at the Archimedes and Globe in Ludgate-street, the Corner next St. Paul's, who serv'd their Apprenticeships to Mr. Yarwell and Mr. Stirope, and during that Time did bring to Perfection for them, by our own Industry, the New Method of Grinding on Brass Tools, which hath been approv'd of by the Royal Society; and we were wholly imploy'd in making the Best sort of Spectacles, Reading-Glasses, Telescopes, Microscopes, and Perspective-Glasses; by which they gain'd a great Reputation, they have since before Witnesses declar'd us to be good Workmen, and as such we have been imploy'd by them and Mr. Marshall several Years in making the best of Work for their Sale; and since we have kept Shop for our selves, we have contriv'd, and now brought to Perfection a new Microscope, that is both Double and Single, adapted for all Objects, and 'tis computed that it magnifies them more than Two Millions of Times, and far exceeds that mention'd in our former Advertisement. We are now making a Concave Metal, that unites the Sun Beams so vigorously, that in a Minutes Time it will melt Steel, and vitrefie the hardest Substance. Also we do protest we pretend to no Impossibilities, and that we scorn to impose on any Gentleman or others, but what we Make and Sell shall be really Good, and answer the End we propose in our Advertisements; and that we have True Spectacles and Reading-Glasses, which preserve the Sight, and Telescopes of all Lengths; so curiously Adapted and Contriv'd, that a small one for the Pocket takes in a larger Angle, shews the Object larger and nigher than the large Common ones of 4 Foot long, by the Assistance of which the Hour of the Day may be discover'd by such a Clock as Bow or St. James's above 2 Miles, or any thing else at 20 or 30 Miles distance proportionable; we have and do make others, that are larger, will do the same at 4 or 6 Miles, modestly speaking; and we are now writing a small Treatise, with the Advice and Assistance of the Learned, that gives the Reasons why they do so; and other Curiosities, which will speedily be finished, and given (Gratis) to our Customers.
